

Partnering

We believe in partnering with both the owner and architect on every project regardless of the delivery system involved. Partnering is simply a positive attitude of working together for the common goal. Partnering with owners and design firms assures Fowler and Hammer of building and continuing long-term business relationships. Partnering with our employees provides the company with a professional, stable work force and provides our employees with a healthy, enjoyable work environment.

"The Team Approach" to construction's eternal triangle:
Owner- Contractor-Architect

Project success is based on:

- Ability to team effectively with owners and designers
- Personal commitment to project goals
- Accessibility of people and information

Construction Services include:

- Preliminary project analysis
- Estimating
- Cost control and budgeting
- Value engineering
- Self-perform concrete, carpentry, steel work, masonry for maximum value
- Construction management
- Facility Maintenance warranty service

100% of Cost Savings returned to Owner.

